

What's Next For Virginia's E-Learning Environment?
November 15, 2005 9:30 a.m. – 3:30 p.m.

Conference Agenda and Proceedings

- 9:00      Registration
- 9:45      Introductions    Jim Mazoue, James Madison University
- 10:00 –    Keynote and Discussion Topic: How Might States And Higher Education Work Together
11:00    To Promote E-Learning? Why Should They Do It?
Keynote Speaker: Sally M. Johnstone, Executive Director, WCET
Convener: Edith Barnett, Old Dominion University
- 11:00 –    Break
11:15
- 11:15 –    Keynote and Discussion Topic: A Proposal For States And Higher Education From The 12:00    National Center For Academic Transformation
Keynote Speaker: Carol A. Twigg, President and CEO, National Center for Academic Transformation
Convener: Alan Edwards, State Council of Higher Education for Virginia
- 12:00 –    Working Lunch Discussion Topic: What Is The Current Proposal For Supporting E-
1:30    Learning In Virginia, What Might Be Accomplished? What Might State Funding Support?
Featured Speakers: Thomas D. Rust, Virginia House of Delegates, 86thDistrict; Christine Milliken, State Council of Higher Education Member, Chair Academic Affairs Committee;
Whittington W. Clement, State Council of Higher Education Member
Convener: Anne Moore, Virginia Tech
- 1:30 –    Discussion Topic: How Does Technology Influence Higher Education's Approaches To 2:30    Teaching And Learning? What Are The Challenges And Opportunities In Integrating Technology In Teaching And Learning?
Featured Speakers: Gardner Campbell, University of Mary Washington; Marilyn McKenzie,
George Mason University; Edith Barnett, Old Dominion University
Convener: Lynda Phillips-Madson, University of Virginia
- 2:30 –    Discussion Topic: What Do Virginians Need From E-Learning? What Could Virginia do?
3:30    Featured Speakers; Peter Blake, Secretary of Education for Virginia; Daniel LaVista, Executive Director, State Council of Higher Education for Virginia; Monty Sullivan, Vice Chancellor for Academic Services and Research, Virginia Community College System
Convener: Tim Tirrell, Virginia Community College System